HIKING

220 KM OF HIKING PATHS AND TRAILS

Walking tours are organized on the island of Lošinj.

There are over 220 km of hiking paths and trails. They are divided by the criteria of paths' difficulty on "lungomare" paths (paths along the coast) and easy and more difficult hiking paths.

Lungomare paths are intended for the widest range of walkers. The paths follow the coast of the island, passing many coves and bays through the centuries-old pine forest. Easy hiking paths are intended for wider range of walkers, but unlike lungomare paths, they mainly cross the inland of the island.

More difficult hiking paths are ideal for demanding and experienced climbers and beginners who want a true mountain experience. Attractiveness of the paths is untouched nature and numerous lookouts that offer magnificent view over the archipelago.
